

Adolfo Gentile: short bio

Now a training consultant in Interpreting and Translating and a NAATI Director, previously Adolfo Gentile was a Member of the Refugee Review Tribunal and Migration Review Tribunal and an Independent Merits Reviewer (Australia). He has been involved in the development of training and certification as well as teaching and research in the fields of Translation & Interpreting for over 40 years. He was the Head of School of Languages, Interpreting and Translating at Deakin University and the Founding Director of the University's Centre for Research and Development in Interpreting and Translating. He chaired the National Accreditation Authority for Translators and Interpreters (NAATI) from 1995 to 2002 and was the president of Fédération Internationale des Traducteurs (International Federation of Translators) from 1999 to 2002. His current research interests are Translation policy and Translation Education. He has written extensively and consulted on the training and practice of translation and interpreting. He is a NAATI Certified Advanced Translator in English <> Italian and a Fellow of the Australian Institute of Interpreters and Translators (AUSIT).