

Protocol for sending

'Call for research participants' to AUSIT members

Approved by the National Council at 24 March 2021 meeting

- AUSIT welcomes research into interpreting and translation and will willingly cooperate with researchers to disseminate calls for participants for research projects that meet the following criteria:
 - The researcher is either a research student enrolled at an Australian or overseas university or is an employee of an Australian or overseas university or other non-for-profit research institution.
 - The researcher has received ethics clearance from Human Ethics Research Committee of their relevant institution.
 - The Ethics Clearance Number appears on the Information Sheet.
 - The researcher provides AUSIT with the relevant research Information Sheet and Consent forms together with the approved Call for Participants poster.
 - The research study is directly related to interpreting and/or translation.
 - AUSIT is informed of the results of the study, preferably in the form of a short report sent to the Education Committee,
 - The researcher should also be willing to provide a short summary for AUSIT's In Touch magazine, if requested
- The Call for participants may be posted on the AUSIT discussion forum and included in the monthly President's Newsletter, and may also be sent as a separate broadcast email if it missed the deadline for inclusion in the Newsletter.
- The researcher will send the request to: education@ausit.org.
- If the researcher is an AUSIT member, s/he can post the request on the AUSIT discussion forum directly with the required relevant information.
